CAUGHT IN TEXAS.

Arrest of Allen Parmer, one of the Visit of a Posse of Armed Men to the Samuels Mansion.

[From the K. C. Times, Nov. 11.] On the night of October 8th, when the Chicago & Alton train was stopped and robbed near Glendale, fourteen miles east of this city, there were from eight to sixteen men connected with the affair. Among the number was Allen Parmer, well known through this section as a most tion as a most and besides he was a brother-in-law of the James boys, having married their eldest sister. He it was who entered the car on the night of the outrage, unmasked and knocked the express mes-senger dewn because he refused to give up the keys of the sale. At least so it is thought, the description of the man as given by the messenger being exactly that of Parmer. The last named was known to have been hereabeuts just previous to the robbery, and absent immediately afterwards. At any rate, it was accepted as true, that he was a member of Jesse James' gang, and he has been followed closely since. He was heard of in the Indian Territory at several points, and on Friday last Marshal Ligget received word that Parmer was coming towards Sherman. He at once sent word to the officers there, and on Sunday he received notification that his man had been captured. A requisition has been in the hands of the officers for some days, in anticipation of this arrest, and last evening a deputy left for Texas, and will return in a few days with the prisoner. Parmer during the war was

A BUSHWHACKER of the worst sort, and figured in numerous scenes of murder, where he always managed to come out alive. He was a member of Quantrell's band, was present at the buraing of Lawrence and wherever there was to be bloodshed, there was he. It is said that he has killed a dozen men and a few years ago, brained a man in St. Louis with a bar of tron. His companions have always iron. His companions have always been desperate fellows and he was al-ways ready for a fight or trolic. Several years ago he married a sister of the James boys, since which time his name has intimately been connected with theirs. The officers feel confident that Parmer is the man who entered the car on the night of the robbery and that the messenger will so identify htm.

LOOKING FOR JESSE.

Several days since Marshal Liggett received information which led him to be-lieve that if Jesse James had been killed or wounded, something about the matter could be ascertained by a sudden de-scent upon the house of Mrs. Samuels, in Liberty long before daylight and reached the meighberhood of the James' house between 7 and 8 o'clook.

DIVIDING THEIR FORCE.

they charged the house, and soon had it surrounded. No sooner did they appear than did Mrs. Samuels loom up; then a very ludicrous seene took place. As the endeavor to make the officers believe some one was in the house. When the men entered and searched the building from top to bottom, nothing of a suspicious character was found, and they had to acknowledge that they were on the wrong trail. Mrs Samuels was especially severe upon calling him a "gray whiskered sinner," and asking it he was "old Liggett." It was a long time before she could be convinced that it was not Laggett, she being of the opinion that that gentleman was making it quite lively for her offspring. After leaving the locality, the house of Cummings, whom Shepherd says he wounded, was visited, but no better success awaited them, and the return was made to Liberty. During the entire trip the people of Clay did everything in their power to aid the officers. They loaned their horses, fed the men without pay, and did all they conscientiously could to further the capture of the

DEPUTY AMASA HAYES,

THE MOST MARRIED OF WOMEN.

[From the Smyns (Del.) Times.] Benjamin Abbott, one of our old citizens, died in this town Saturday last in the eighty-second year of his age. He was a nephew of the celebrated Rev. Benjamin Abbott, the great Methodist revivalist of the early part of this century and come. early part of this century, and came to this state from New Jersey when a young man, and settled in the "Neck," east of this town, where his active life was mostly spent. But the notable feature in Mr. Abbett's otherwise uneventful life is the remarks—ble feet of being the seventh husband. ble fact of being the seventh husband of his widow, ho survives him. This much-talked-of and much-published event (for it went the rounds of the press of the nation), when he for the second and she for the seventh time bowed before the altar of Hymen, occurred on June 30, 1875, he then being 78 and she 82 years old. Mrs. Abbott's history in the marital relations of life stands perhaps without a parallel in the records of the the number of conquests she was to make. The eighth is just as likely and as reasonable as the seventh, and already public gossip is beginning to mark this and that man as the victim of next conquest. Her maiden name was Williams, and she has been successively Mrs. Traux, Mrs. Riggs, Mrs. Farrow, Mrs. Waliace, Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Pratt and Mrs. Abbott. In every instance, save the first, she has married widowers, some of them with a good number of children, and on one occasion in her early married life she went to the simshouse and took therefrom three children and raised them. She never had any children of her own. All her life has been spent in this vicinity, and all her hu-bands were buried by the same undertaker.

As the tide of immigration is now in this direction, it is the Company's interest to have people locate in Denver and on their property. To encourage emigration here, the Company will give to any one sending their name and address a warrantee deed, in fee simple, for one or more lots in North Denver, situated in Weld County, State of Colorado, in immediate view of this beautiful city, the only charge being one dollar to pay the Notary Public fees for acknowledging deed and conveyance. The Company does not give every lot away, but each alternate one, and does not expect that every person who gets a lot in North Denver will come here, but a great many will, and they will induce their friends to follow. The increased population will soon make this property very valuable, and this Company retain each alternate lot, which they hold at prices varying from $25 to $500, according to location. For this reason the above proposition is made. The deeds are unconditional, not requiring any one to settle or improve, but with full power to transfer and deed to others.
